THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1771.

LONDON, JULY 18.

ON Tueſday night an expreſs was brought to the King, at Richmond, by one of his Daniſh Majeſty's Aides de Camps, with the agreeable news of her Daniſh Majeſty's happy delivery of a Princeſs on the 7th inſtant. It is remarkable that the above gentleman performed his journey in three days leſs time than any meſſenger ever did.

The Earl of Sandwich has appointed his brother, Admiral Montagu, now Commander in North-America, to be Rear Admiral of England, in the room of Admiral Holbourn, deceaſed.

Miſs Elizabeth Knowles, daughter of Sir Charles Knowles, (now at the Court of Peterſburgh) is appointed one of the Maids of Honour to her Majeſty.

A correſpondent has ſent us the following liſt of infamous Miniſters for ſeveral ages paſt:----Hubert de Burgo, Chief Juſtice, who adviſed Henry III. to burn Magna Charta.---Pierce de Gaveſton, the Spencers, and others, who carried on the ſame deſign in the reign of Edward II.---Sir Robert Treſilian, Chief Juſtice, the Miniſter and Favourite of Richard II.---William de la Pole, Earl of Suffolk, who plotted the deſtruction of the Duke of Glouceſter.---Sir John Cateſby, a Judge of the Common Pleas, who plotted the death of Richard the IIId's two nephews.---Sir Richard Empſon and Edmund Dudley, thoſe infamous pillagers and oppreſſors of the people under Henry VII.-- Cardinal Wolſey, the inſolent Favourite and Prime Miniſter of Henry VIII.--- all which came to fearful and untimely ends.-----To which may be added the execrated names of Bute----Grafton---North---Mansfield, &c. &c. &c. who are now exiſting, and compoſe the preſent odious adminiſtration.

Wedham Wyndham, Eſq; is appointed Captain of a Company in the ſecond or Coldſtream Regiment of Foot Guards.

------- Paterſon, Gent. is appointed Surgeon to the 23d Regiment of Foot or Royal Welſh Fuzileers.

Neſs James, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the 19th Regiment of Foot, commanded by Major General Græme.

Richard Baſſett, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the 10th Regiment of Foot.

JULY 20. The following propoſitions are in the French King's arret to annul the reſolutions of the Parliament of Bourdeaux againſt the Duke d'Aiguillon: "That the whole adminiſtration of the public power reſides in the King's perſon alone, and that he is accountable for that adminiſtration to God only; that it is from him alone that the magiſtrates hold their power; that they (the parliament) are, and can be nothing more than the officers of his Majeſty charged with the execution of his will; that if for the good of the people he grants them leave to repreſent to him what they think conducive to his ſervice, and advantageous to his ſubjects, it is their duty to do it, only with reſpect due to his ſacred perſon; that it is never allowed to oppoſe the execution of his orders, but only to make the moſt reſpectful repreſentations; and that when his Majeſty does not think proper to condeſcend, obedience is a duty impoſed by all the laws; that his Majeſty is ſole legiſlator in his kingdom, independent, and undivided; that he alone has a right of putting the antient laws in execution, of interpreting them, or of making new laws."

It is confidently ſaid, that the newly appointed Secretary of State is ſo tired of his office, as to have already deſired leave to reſign, which will be accepted of as ſoon as a perſon is fixed on to ſucceed him.

We hear from very good authority, that moſt of the nobility and gentry who intend appearing at Windſor at the enſuing inſtallation, are already provided from France with ready-made ſuits of ſilk cloaths for the occaſion.---Strange! that while they ſeemingly do honour to St. George of England---they ſhould be eſſentially ſerving St. Dennis of France.

JULY 23. It is now become high time, as ill humours are viſibly ſpread through the whole body of his Majeſty's people, for him to make a ſtrict and ſerious enquiry into the cauſes of them, and ſee whether they really flow from thoſe little ſprings which occaſionally break out in the beſt of governments, or from other ſources of a more latent and complicated nature. The beſt way of doing this is, to hear all parties. Without implicitly confiding in thoſe whom he immediately employs, or in thoſe who oppoſe them; but weighing their reſpective arguments in his own mind with a juſt and equal balance; for that old maxim of our law, audi alteram partem, can never be more properly applied than in the preſent ſituation of affairs.---A King can no more act wiſely and juſtly, than a Judge can decide equitably, without an impartial hearing of both ſides.----Things are now reduced to ſuch an unhappy paſs, by a long courſe of maladminiſtration and provoking conduct, that there ſeem but two ways to retrieve; either by his Majeſty regaining the affections of his people by a change of meaſures, or ſubduing them by force. A wiſe and good Prince cannot ſurely heſitate a moment which of thoſe two methods to take. His Majeſty cannot therefore take a ſurer way to regain the affections of his people, than by ſending for the greateſt men in his kingdom, and conſult with them what is proper to be done. By great men, is not meant thoſe in power, nor thoſe under their influence, nor even thoſe who are in immediate oppoſition to them, and therefore may be ſuppoſed to be prejudiced againſt them; but ſuch men as are truly great, not only by their high birth and independent poſſeſſions, but their known experience in affairs of ſtate, and diſintereſted conduct for a courſe of years. Such men as theſe, whoſe intereſt it muſt always be to avoid confuſions, will never deceive his Majeſty; and it is in the power of ſuch men only to retrieve the affairs of a diſtempered government by fair means.

The Spaniſh Admiral in the Mediterranean has been ſuperceded in command, and ſent home to Cadiz, in a frigate diſpatched for that purpoſe.

JULY 25. All the freſh letters received from Liſbon agree in the accounts of the decay of trade there of the Engliſh; and the encouragement given to the Dutch, Spaniards, French, or even Swedes, in preference to the Britiſh traders.

A letter from Madrid, of the 25th of June ſays, "The King taking into conſideration how neceſſary it is to put his American poſſeſſions in a good ſtate of defence, and keep up at all times a ſufficient number of troops there, has reſolved that they ſhall remain for the future on the ſame footing as at preſent."

Alexander Wood, Eſq; is appointed Commiſſary of ſtores and proviſions at Grenada.

JULY 26. Yeſterday the Lord Mayor ſent a letter of thanks to the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, for the uſe of the Chatham yacht laſt week, when taking a ſurvey of the rivers Thames and Medway; a like letter was ſent to the Elder Brethren of the Trinity Houſe, for the uſe of their yacht on the ſame occaſion.

Yeſterday Mr. Whittell, of the Chamberlain's office, Guildhall, waited upon the Rev. Dr. Wilſon, at his houſe in Weſtminſter, with a copy of his freedom of the city of London, in an elegant ſilver box, the gift of Sir Stephen Theodore Janſſen, Bart. Chamberlain.

Captain Robinſon, late Captain of the Wolf, is appointed to the command of the Ferret ſloop of war.

Captain Williams is appointed to the command of the Wolf ſloop, in the room of Captain Robinſon.

Lieutenant Baines is appointed to the command of his Majeſty's ſloop the Falcon.

The proceſſion yeſterday at Windſor began to move from the Hall to St. George's Chapel about ten minutes after eleven. The graceful air, and truly majeſtic appearance of the Sovereign on this occaſion, was remarked by every ſpectator; he indeed "looked a King." The Knights were all moſt ſuperbly habited.

The gates of the caſtle were kept ſhut yeſterday, and none were admitted without tickets, a few excepted, who crouded in with the French Ambaſſador's carriage.

The town was exceeding full; but it is ſuppoſed numbers left the place without gratifying their curioſity; for, not being able to procure admittance within the Caſtle gates, they ſaw no part of the proceſſion; indeed they were in as ridiculous a ſituation as the Iriſh Jontleman in the Jubilee, who came from Dublin to Stratford upon Avon (upwards of 200 miles) for no other purpoſe than to ſee that proceſſion, and ſlept during the whole time it was paſſing.

JULY 27. Yeſterday at noon, their Majeſties and all the Royal Family left Windſor, and returned to Richmond.

A letter from Paris, dated the 18th inſtant, ſays, "It is this moment the report of the whole town, that laſt night, a little before twelve, the Chancellor Maupeou was ſhot at in his carriage as it was turning the corner of the Rue de Louis le Grande. The place is in an uproar about this alarming incident, and the Lieutenant de Police has been ſent for to Verſailles."

His Majeſty's ſhip the Endeavour, which is lately arrived in the river from the Eaſt-Indies, loſt, by the unhealthineſs of the climate, 70 of her hands, tho' they were picked men, and had been ſeveral times in the Indies. However, thoſe that ſurvive will have made their fortunes by traffic, having brought home ſome of the richeſt goods made in the Eaſt, which they are ſuffered to diſpoſe of without the inſpection of Cuſtom-Houſe officers. This, our correſpondent ſays, is allowed them by government, as a reward for their hard and dangerous ſervices, during a voyage of three years.

The tickets by which Mr. Wilkes and his daughter were preſent at the inſtallation, were ſent in a very polite letter to him by Lord Temple.

Upon looking over the record at Windſor, it appears the Noble Order of the Garter has been conferred on eight Emperors of Germany; five Kings of France; three Kings of Spain, beſides the Emperor Charles V. two Kings of Scotland; ſeven Kings and Princes of the Royal Houſe of Portugal; five Kings of Denmark; one King of Poland; two Kings of Sweden; three Kings of Naples; one King of Pruſſia; one Duke of Milan; one Duke of Farara; two Dukes of Urbino; one Elector of Saxony; ſix Count Palatines; four Dukes of Brunſwick; two Dukes of Holſtein; one Duke of Wirtemburg; one Duke of Guelderland; five Princes of Orange; one Prince of Denmark; one Earl of Holland; one Duke of Savoy; one Duke of Bretagne; two Dukes of Montmorency; one Duke of Chevereuſe; one Prince of Tarente; one Marquis of Brandenburgh; one Prince of Heſſe; one Duke of Saxe Gotha; one Marquis of Anſpach; beſides ſome other foreigners of eſpecial merit and deſert, though inferior quality.

By the Holland mail arrived this morning, we have received the following important account of a total defeat of the Turks by the Ruſſian army.

Extract of a letter from the Field Marſhal Count de Romanzow, dated from the army near Wolzeſky, June 19, to his Excellency the Count de Saldern, Ambaſſador from Ruſſia at this Court.

"I have the honour to announce to you by this letter, the happy ſucceſs of our arms, but at the ſame time muſt acquaint you with a melancholy accident, which, as I am well aſſured, may be divulged by thoſe that envy us, as a great loſs to us; I mean that the Major Commandant Henkel has ſurrendered to the enemy the fortreſs of Giurgiewo, in an unheard of manner, ſince, according to his own confeſſion, he was provided with every thing neceſſary to make a vigorous defence. I thought it my duty to apprize you of this immediately, that you may ſtop the mouth of thoſe who might ſpeak of this affair contrary to truth. I hope that Prince Repnin, who commands in that part, will ſoon repair that loſs."

"P. S. This moment news was brought from Buchareſt and Cronſtadt, that the Turks, encouraged by the taking of Giurgiewo, had paſſed the Danube, to the number of 60,000 men, and had attacked Prince Repnin, who was poſted between Buchareſt and Giurgiewo with 30,000 men. The engagement was obſtinate and bloody, and laſted five hours, when the Ruſſians gained a complete victory. The Turks loſt 30,000 men, who were left on the field of battle; among whom there are three Agas, 180 pieces of cannon, and 5000 priſoners, and ſeveral trophies were taken from them during the purſuit by the Ruſſian hunters; the number of thoſe who were drowned in the Danube is very conſiderable."

It is a notorious fact, that a certain nobleman in an high office in the Treaſury, has four of his menial ſervants on the Treaſury books, as clerks in that office, whoſe ſervices are at all times diſpenſed with, and their worthy maſter pockets the ſalaries of the whole.

When we conſider the great increaſe of our civil employments, the high ſalaries and lucrative perquiſites annexed to them, and the ſmall labour and attendance required from the poſſeſſors, we are filled with the utmoſt aſtoniſhment and impatience. Happy kingdom! where the people can behold a ſet of profligate placemen and mongrel ſtateſmen, maintained by them in gay equipages, and enabled to encourage private maſquerades, operas, and all the faſhionable follies, which the wiſdom of the preſent age has introduced amongſt us. There muſt be a peculiar pleaſure in contemplating this happy ſcene; eſpecially when we recollect that the ſalaries of a hundred ſinecures, and where the buſineſs of offices is exerciſed by commiſſioners, would, by taking off three out of five, pay the intereſt of ſeveral thouſands a year, or, added to the ſinking fund, would ſoon amount to a ſum ſufficient to redreſs ſome cruel taxes which ſenſibly affect the labouring poor. But whilſt men in employments are looked upon as the ornaments and trappings of a Firſt Miniſter at his levee, and while they are employed in a hundred little infamous jobs, which a man of honour would be aſhamed of, he muſt be more than mortal who can point out a remedy for this crying grievance.

-------- Mawby, Eſq; is appointed a Captain-Lieutenant in the 18th, or Royal Iriſh regiment of foot.

John Delancey, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the ſame regiment.

Nathaniel Curzon, Gent. is appointed a Cornet in the 3d regiment of dragoons, commanded by the Earl of Albemarle.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE, OF JULY 27.

CEREMONIES obſerved at the Inſtallations of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, his Royal Highneſs the Biſhop of Oſnabrugh, his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, his Serene Highneſs the Duke of Mecklenburgh, his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Brunſwick, the Earl of Albemarle, the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Grafton, and Earl Gower, in the preſence of the SOVEREIGN, at Windſor, on Thurſday the 25th of July, 1771.

THE Knights Companions in the full habit of the order, the officers of the order, in their mantles, the Knights elect in the under-habits of their order, having their caps and feathers in their hands, and the Proxies in their ordinary habit, attended the Sovereign in the Royal apartments: The Officers of Arms in the Preſence Chamber, the Prebends and Poor Knights in the Guard-Chamber.

The Proxies not going the proceſſion, retired to their chairs at the back of the altar.

About eleven o'clock the proceſſion began to move, being called over in the following order by Garter:

Poor Knights, two and two.
Prebends, two and two.
Officers of Arms, two and two.
The Knights Elect, two and two, having their caps and feathers in their hands.

Earl Gower.	Duke of Grafton.
Duke of Marborough.	Earl of Albemarle.
His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland.	His Royal Highneſs the Biſhop of Oſnabrugh.

His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.
The Knights Companions in their order, viz.

Marquis of Rockingham.	Earl of Hertford.
Duke of Northumberland.	Duke of Montague.

Duke of Newcaſtle.
Duke of Kingſton.
His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter.

Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod with his rod.	The Regiſter with the book	Garter King of Arms with his rod or ſcepter.

The Biſhop of Saliſbury.
The Chancellor, of the Order with the purſe.
The Vice Chamberlain.
The Sword of State, by the Duke of St. Alban's.
The SOVEREIGN, in the full habit of the order, his train borne by two Duke's eldeſt ſons, and the Maſter of the Robes.
The band of gentlemen penſioners.

In this manner proceeded to the Chapel, they entered at the ſouth door, paſſing down the ſouth iſle, and up the north iſle to the Chapter-houſe, the Poor Knights, Prebends, and Officers of Arms dividing on either ſide for the proceſſion to paſs; the Knights elect retiring to their chairs in the iſle behind the altar, the Knights Companions and the Officers of the Order only entering into the Chapter-houſe, with the Sovereign.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions, being ſeated, Garter was commanded to introduce his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, who was received at the Chapter-houſe door by the two junior Knights Companions, and conducted to the table, where the Surcoat, Girdle, and Sword had been placed; and Garter preſenting the Surcoat to the two ſenior Knights, they inveſted his Royal Highneſs therewith, the Chancellor reading the admonition.

Then Garter preſented the Girdle and Sword, which were put on.

His Royal Highneſs the Biſhop of Oſnabrugh, and his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, were then ſeverally introduced and inveſted in like manner.

Then Sir Charles Frederick, the Proxy for his Serene Highneſs the Duke of Mecklenburgh was introduced, and afterwards Sir John Griffin Griffin, the Proxy for his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Brunſwick.

Garter then introduced the Earl of Albemarle, who was received at the Chapter-houſe door, by the two junior Knights Companions, and inveſted as before, the Regiſter reading the admonition.

Then the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Grafton, and Earl Gower, were ſeverally introduced, and inveſted, as the Earl of Albemarle had been.

The Knights elect continued in the Chapter-houſe while the proceſſion to the Chapel was made, and the atchievements of the deceaſed Knights were offered, the proceſſion paſſing down the Weſt End of the iſle, and up the middle iſle, into the Choir; after which they were inſtalled, the offerings were made by the Sovereign and the new Knights, their titles proclaimed, with the uſual ceremonies.

JULY 29. Laſt Saturday's Gazette contains his Majeſty's order in Council for proroguing the Parliament to the firſt of October.

On Thurſday at Windſor, his Majeſty conferred the honour of Knighthood on William Deſſe, Eſq; clerk of the cheque to the band of gentlemen penſioners.

On Saturday a man was examined at the Secretary of State's Office, concerning the ſetting Portſmouth Dock on fire: He preſented himſelf voluntarily on Friday morning, and declares he was hired by an agent for the French.

After dinner on Thurſday, at Windſor, the new regulation of the Lord Steward took place about the ſcramble; as it was thought a better plan of economy to carry the victuals to the mob, than to let the mob come to the victuals. Accordingly the windows of the Caſtle were thrown open, and the proviſion toſſed out to the gaping croud below. A cloud of hams, chickens, paſties, haunches, and delicacies of every kind, with knives, forks, plates, table-cloths, and napkins, their companions, darkened the air. This was succeeded by showers of liquor; some conveyed in bottles, properly corked, but the greater part in ruid. The ſcramble was more diverting than any other part of the preceding ſtrife. You would ſee one ſtooping for a fowl, and a great ham falling plump upon his back; another having a fork ſtuck in his ſhoulder, and looking up to ſecure himſelf from more of the arrows thus flying by day, received a creamed apple-pye full in his face. A beef eater having loſt his cap in the ſcuffle, had his loſs repaired by a veniſon paſty falling inverted upon his head. A bargeman, who had juſt ſecured a noble haunch of veniſon, was retiring as faſt as he could with his booty, and ran with it full againſt the back of Lord ——, and made an impreſſion on it ſo like a gridiron, that all the mob, after they ended their laughter, cried out, ſmoak the Merry Andrew.

JULY 30. We hear by a ſhip from Plymouth, that Admiral Spry is in Torbay, with his fleet, have met with a violent gale of wind at ſea, and obliged to put into Torbay with the loſs of the maſts of the Torbay. The Admiral, we hear, has had a fit of apoplexy, but is well recovered.

Two thouſand beds were made in the Caſtle at Windſor, and two thouſand tables were ſpread on Thurſday. There were ſeventeen kitchens, and fifty cooks in each kitchen, beſides other attendants.

The things ſtolen on Thurſday from the Caſtle were innumerable; among the reſt, a ſilver candleſtick of great value, ten dozen of table and other ſpoons, a quantity of the King's fine table linen, china in abundance, beſides a great deal broken. So rapacious were many, who by ſome means had procured admittance, that velvet was cut from the backs of the chairs, ſeveral ladies had the tails of their gowns cut off, and one lady had a beautiful pearl ear-ring ſnatched from her as ſhe was going into the ball-room.

Four tables were provided, called Riſing tables, which were intended to be given up to the populace as ſoon as forty ladies had dined at one of them, thirty at another, and twenty at the other two. The canaille, however, were too impatient to wait till the ladies had finiſhed; the moment the deſert was brought in, they ruſhed forward, and entirely cleared the tables in two minutes. A beautiful fountain, in the making of which confectioners had been employed ſeven days, was demoliſhed in leſs than ſeven ſeconds.

The King's watermen, by ancient cuſtom, on ſuch occaſions, carry up ſome part of the dinner. On this day, the populace, however, were reſolved to ſpare them a part of their trouble, and therefore ſeized a great number of diſhes, which they were carrying to the tables. They alſo laid an embargo on the dinner intended for the Gentlemen Penſioners.

Lord North, laſt Court day, was dreſſed in an elegant ſuit of tambour cloaths, which attracted the notice of a great perſonage ſo much, that after complimenting him on his taſte, he ſaid they looked almoſt as well as French.

It is ſaid that ſome important diſcoveries, relative to the reception of monies by ſome gentlemen in adminiſtration for ſinecures, which have never been diſpoſed of, has been the occaſion of ſeveral meetings in Downing-ſtreet and Privy-garden.

We are informed, by a gentleman who was at the inſtallation, that though the dreſſes and decorations were as ſplendid and magnificent as imagination can ſuppoſe, yet, on account of the paucity of the Knights and attendants, it fell infinitely ſhort of people's expectations. The ceremonies, inſtead of being in the leaſt entertaining, were purely pantomimic, and bore all the marks of that unmeaning pageantry, which diſtinguiſhed the age of their foundation.

George Seymour, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the 17th regiment of foot.

JULY 31. By letters from Berlin there is advice, that a courier had juſt arrived there with the news that the Empreſs of Ruſſia had rejected ſeven of the articles of peace drawn up for ratification between Ruſſia and the Porte.

Extract of a Letter from Grenada, June 16.

"We have had a trial about the legality of the Aſſembly of this iſland, into which three Roman Catholicks have been admitted by royal mandate, notwithſtanding an act of parliament of King William and Queen Mary, to oblige every perſon enjoying any place of profit or truſt under government, in the colonies as well as in England, to take the teſt and certain oaths, which thoſe members refuſed. This illegal aſſembly laid a tax upon la Baye Port; we refuſed to pay it, let the Marſhal ſeize, and then ſued him.

"We have had a verdict. The Hon. Judge Wilkes, elder brother to the Alderman of London, who is a gentleman of unblemiſhed character, and a friend to legal government, diſtinguiſhed himſelf by his integrity upon this occaſion, and gave a moſt excellent charge to the Jury. The other Judge, his ſenior, endeavoured to intimidate them.

"We had at night illuminations and bonfires. The ſenior Judge was burnt in effigy, and ſeveral barrels of porter drank to the health of Judge Wilkes, or Grenada Wilkes, the Britiſh conſtitution, and no diſpenſing power."

AUGUST 1. It is ſtrongly reported that ſome very unpleaſing accounts were received on Saturday night laſt, in an expreſs from the Britiſh Ambaſſador at Conſtantinople.

We hear that the late diſpute between the French Ambaſſador's ſervants and the conſtables at a public-houſe in Crown-Court, Weſtminſter, cannot be ſettled, and in all probability will be the foundation for a war, a meſſenger having been ſent to Paris for inſtructions how the Ambaſſador is to proceed further in the affair, who returned from thence yeſterday.

Extract of a Letter from Calais, dated July 24.

"Lady Ligonier returned here from England laſt Friday was a week, and is gone as a boarder into the Convent of the Benedictines Order at Ardres, nine miles from this place."

A commiſſion is preparing to paſs the Great Seal, for appointing Sir John Bently, Governor of Greenwich Hoſpital.

George Williams, Eſq; is appointed Captain Lieutenant in the 16th Regiment of Dragoons, in the room of Samuel Griffiths, Eſq; and William Nicholſon, Gent. ſucceeds the former as Lieutenant in the ſaid Regiment.

Some of the plants brought over by Dr. Solander have been ſet in the royal garden at Richmond, and thrive very well.

The following intelligence may be depended on; four more men of war are to be ſent from ſome of our out-ports, to join Admiral Harland in the Eaſt-Indies. The like number are to reinforce Sir George Pococke at Jamaica. A ſquadron of force is to be ſent into the South Seas, and ſeveral cruizers are to be employed in the Baltic, and other places.

A ſquadron of ſix men of war and two frigates, is now fitting out at Chatham.

Four men of war of 64 guns each, are now fitting out at Plymouth, for to cruize in the Bay of Biſcay. It is ſaid the Hon. Capt. Barrington will have the command.

We are credibly informed, that the Spaniards are making the greateſt naval preparations at Cadiz and Carthagena, and are continually exporting men and arms to their ſettlements, in the South Seas, and on the Continent of South-America.

Robert Wilmot, Gent. is appointed a Lieutenant in the third regiment of dragoons, commanded by the Earl of Albemarle.

Robert Clayton, Gent. is appointed a Lieutenant in the 17th regiment of foot, commanded by Lieutenant-General Monckton.

AUGUST 3. Thurſday Lord Viſcount Ligonier kiſſed his Majeſty's hand on being appointed Colonel of the 9th regiment of foot, in the room of Col. Whitmore, deceaſed.

This day a new writ will be iſſued out for electing a member for Plymouth, in the room of Francis Holbourne, Eſq; deceaſed.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter propoſes to ſet out for Portſmouth on Thurſday next, to embark there on board his Majeſty's frigate Venus, on his intended voyage up the Mediterranean.

Sir Charles Hardy is ſet out for Plymouth, to offer himſelf a candidate to repreſent the ſaid borough in parliament, in the room of the late Francis Holbourne, Eſq.

Tueſday evening died of the gout in his ſtomach, at his rooms in Pembroke college, Cambridge, Thomas Grey, L.L.B. Profeſſor of Modern Hiſtory and Languages in that univerſity; a gentleman well known in the leterary world as author of the Elegy in a Country Church Yard, and many other much admired pieces. The profeſſorſhip, worth upwards of 400l. a year, is in the gift of the Crown.

Two ſhips, of 74 guns each, at Portſmouth, and three of 60, at Chatham, are ordered to be got ready forthwith for the Leeward Iſlands ſtation.

Letters from Paris mention, that the French are ſecretly exporting from Breſt and Rochfort, great quantities of naval ſtores for the coaſts of Malabar and Africa, in Dutch bottoms.

George Beckwith, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the 37th regiment of foot, commanded by Lieutenant General Gray.

William Currey, Gent. is appointed Adjutant to the 3d regiment of dragoons, commanded by the Earl of Albemarle.

AUGUST 6. A correſpondent expreſſed great ſurprize and indignation at the miſ-proportion of puniſhments in this country. He ſays, he read in the news paper that two men were hanged together laſt month in Kent; one of whom had committed a barbarous murder on his wife, and the other had ſtolen three ſhillings and ſix-pence. In the ſame paper there followed immediately another paragraph, that a woman had been only whipped for ſtealing little children and burning their eyes out.

Some time ago, the court of Spain remonſtrated with that of Britain on the impropriety of ſo many Britiſh veſſels continually viſiting their ports, particularly Cadiz, and carrying away their ſpecie. In conſequence of this application our miniſtry acknowledged the juſtice of their remonſtrance, and moſt ſhamefully conſented to an almoſt total excluſion of the Britiſh veſſels from the ports of Spain. In conſequence of the above tranſactions orders were iſſued from the Admiralty to the Navy, not to touch at any Spaniſh port without leave; and it was for an infringement of theſe orders, that Capt. Inglis was lately tried at Portſmouth by a Court Martial, but he was honourably acquitted.

Many good people are at a loſs to gueſs the reaſon of giving Mr. Leyborne a place in the Weſt-Indies: It may not be improper to hint, that Mr. Bradſhaw contrived it to get him out of the way. He was Mr. Bradſhaw's rival with Mrs. ——— in the City.

The report continues that Lord Suffolk is to be removed. His friends Whateley and Wedderburne are hourly perſuading to forget and forgive all indignities.

It is now paſt a doubt that Mr. Horne is become the tool of the Miniſtry. In every Middleſex Journal (a paper that is chiefly written, and entirely managed by Mr. Horne) we ſee the moſt malignant inveCtives againſt Lord Chatham and his friends, becauſe they are at preſent the only potent enemies of the Court. In all Mr. Horne's abuſe of faction, he never ſays a word of the Shelburne faction. He knows how long, and how often, they have hung out ſignals of diſtreſs; but they are ſo notoriouſly treacherous no party will accept of them. Even Lord North deſpiſed them, when he engaged Mr. Horne as a ſpy. Mr. Horne's preſent employment is to abuſe all oppoſition, to miſrepreſent every anecdote, and reveal every ſecret with which he was at any time entruſted, in order to injure, if poſſible, the public characters of thoſe who ſtand high in their country's eſteem. It was worth the Miniſter's while to give him a ſum of money (perhaps a thouſand pounds) to prevent the county of Middleſex adopting a ſenſible Petition, confined to their own caſe, and to truſt in his own ſarago of nonſenſe and abſurdity, which gave a check to petitioning in general. In a word, he has been a uniform Traitor from the firſt.

A new government is at laſt forming in Louiſiana on the Miſſiſſipi, and the ſeveral departments are now making out with all poſſible diſpatch, to provide for a diſappointed Governor, who carried the orders of the Miniſtry, in his laſt office, with ſo high a hand that he was recalled, or in other words obliged to decamp. Thus has accident, and the view of rewarding venality, induced our vigilant Miniſtry to turn their attention upon a country which, though bleſſed with all the natural advantages of climate, fertility, and ſituation, has remained in our hands ever ſince the peace, without a ſingle effort for its population.

The Seaford and Creſcent men of war are ordered round to Portſmouth to take on board troops for New-York. They are to be ſtationed on that coaſt for three years.

A correſpondent aſſures us, that on Thurſday laſt in the forenoon, the Duke of Grafton, Lord Mansfield, Lord Albemarle, Lord North, the Duke of Portland, and ſome others, made a viſit together to the Marquis of Rockingham, at his houſe in Groſvenor-ſquare; and remained in conference together near two hours. What is in the wind our correſpondent does not pretend to conjecture, but he promiſes to bring proof of this conference if the parties contradict it.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, Auguſt 3.

"It has been generally believed that the ſucceſs of our arms againſt France and Spain in the late war, was greatly owing to the unanimity and cordiality ſubſiſting between our ſailors and ſoldiers; and we have often ſeen the dreadful conſequences to this country when they diſagree. When that may happen, God knows; I hope never; but from the following circumſtance I am afraid too ſoon. A frigate arrived from Gibraltar with a Colonel and his family paſſengers, and while ſhe was in quarantine an expreſs came down with an order for the Colonel, his family, and baggage, to be landed, and the Captain of the ſhip and crew to remain in quarantine. Some days after ſome tranſports arrived with troops from Mahon, an order came for the ſoldiers to be landed, and the ſailors to remain the due time in quarantine."

A large plot of ground is incloſed at the entrance of Hyde-Park from Piccadilly, for building a town houſe for the reſidence of the Lord Chancellor, being a grant from his Majeſty.

AUGUST 8. By a letter from Conſtantinople advice is received, that the Ruſſians have taken ſeveral French ſhips, and confiſcated their cargoes; and have acted in the ſame manner with one or two Engliſh ſhips, one ſaid to be called the Diana, bound from Tunis to the Streights, richly laden.

On Tueſday Robert Gunning, Eſq; his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the court of Berlin, arrived in town from that kingdom, was yeſterday at Court, and had the honour of a conference with his Majeſty.

Dr. Solander, who lately ſailed round the world, is a native of Sweden, and about 40 years of age; Henry Banks, Eſq; who accompanied him, is aged about 26, poſſeſſed of a handſome eſtate in Lincolnſhire; is a Gentleman likewiſe of great learning and abilities; five years ago he ſailed to the Labrador Coaſt, in North-America, in ſearch of plants; and from the ſame laudable thirſt after knowledge, he made the above extraordinary voyage.

The Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor hath ſent cards of invitation to all the Aldermen and their Ladies, to dine with him at the Manſion-houſe on Tueſday next, which, on computation, will be as many as can ſit in the Egyptian Hall agreeably. And to ſhew his particular deſire to accommodate the above Ladies, his Lordſhip hath invited none elſe till the evening; but tickets will be delivered to other Gentlemen and Ladies for the ball. The above method is adopted by his Lordſhip to ſhew his particular reſpect to the Citizens of London.

An anonymous correſpondent ſays, we may depend on the authenticity of the following intelligence, viz. The French Ambaſſador is at this time viſiting, under the conduct of Vice-Admiral Lord Edgecumbe, the ſtate of the ſtore-houſes, magazines, and other vulnerable places in Plymouth Dock-Yard, having already had a thorough inſpection of thoſe at Portſmouth in company with the Earl of Sandwich, Firſt Lord of the Admiralty.

Yeſterday died ſuddenly, the Hon. Sir Francis Blake Delaval, K. B. in the 48th year of age. He dined the day before with his brother, Mr. Thomas, at Clapham, whence returning in perfect health, he went to Dover-ſtreet to pay a viſit to his ſiſter, the Counteſs of Mexborough, was obſerved to be as well as ever, only towards bedtime complained of a ſmall giddineſs in his head, which he expected ſoon to go off. In this perſuaſion he compoſed himſelf to reſt, but after a few groans expired as repreſented.

When Count Laraguais, the French nobleman, who is ſo celebrated at Newmarket and other turfs, lately had an audience with the French King, his Majeſty, amongſt other particulars, aſked him why he ſtaid ſo long in England? "I was learning to think, replied the Count." "It would be a good employment, ſays the King, if the ſubject was not a horſe."

They write from Paris, of the 28th paſt, that the Duke d'Aiguillon has granted to Meſſrs. de la Chalotais, the payment of the arrears of their ſalary, claimed by them as Attornies-General of the Parliament of Britanny, aſſuring them the ſame ſhould be paid for the future by way of penſion. They add, that the Duke de Chevreuſe, Governor of Paris, lies at the point of death.

A correſpondent aſks, why the royal family ſhould pay ſo much attention to the land-forces of this kingdom, which they do by their reviews and donations, as if we were a continental people; when the navy, which from our ſituation ſhould be a royal concern, is left to the guidance of old women and boys?

They write from Birmingham, that there are now fabricating there a quantity of military utenſils of different kinds, to the amount of 70,000l. for the uſe of his Daniſh Majeſty.

Thomas Cuming, Gent. is appointed an Enſign in the 18th, or Royal Iriſh regiment of foot.

Thomas Hervan, Eſq; is appointed a Captain Lieutenant in the 4th regiment of dragoons, commanded by Major General Carpenter.

King James I. in one of his ſpeeches, made this obſervation (the wiſeſt he ever made during his whole reign) "that ſpeeches from the throne ſhould be plain and ſincere: By ſincerity, ſays he, I mean that uprightneſs and ſincerity which ought to be in a King's whole ſpeeches and actions; that, as far as a King is in honour above his ſubjects, ſo far ſhould he ſtrive in ſincerity to be above them all; and that his tongue ſhould be the true meſſenger of his heart." But, on the contrary, in the preſent reign, Have we not ſeen falſehood put into the mouth of Majeſty?

A method of deſtroying Wevils in corn-chambers, which has proved ſucceſsful on repeated trials.——Carefully dig up an Ant or Piſmire's hill with a ſpade, and place it in the corner of the chamber, and in a month the Wevils will be all deſtroyed by the Ants; but if any ſhould remain after that time, which is ſeldom the caſe, replace the old hill with a freſh one.

ST. JAMES'S, July 19. His Majeſty having been pleaſed to appoint William Leyborne Leyborne, Eſq; to be Captain-General and Governor in Chief of the Iſlands of Grenada, the Granadines, St. Vincent, and Tobago, in America, he this day in Council took the oaths appointed to be taken by the Governors of his Majeſty's plantations.

Auguſt 3. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to iſſue his letter mandatory to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral of St. Paul, London, for their electing and admitting Dr. John Green, Biſhop of Lincoln, into the place of Canon Reſidentiary of the ſaid Church, vacant by the tranſlation of the late Biſhop of Litchfield and Coventry, and Canon Reſidentiary there, to the ſee of Durham.

DUBLIN, July 27. His Majeſty's letters are come over, appointing Major General Charles Earl of Drogheda, and Major General James Giſborne, to ſucceed Lieutenant General Archibald Douglas, and Lieutenant General Studholm Hodgſon (who have reſigned) on the ſtaff of this kingdom, as Major Generals.

The Caſtle of Caſtlelyons, the ſeat of the Earl of Barymore, was a few days ago entirely conſumed by fire.

LEGHORN, July 10. By a veſſel arrived this week from Alexandria in Egypt, we learn that the Grand Signior, in conſequence of the ſucceſs of Ali Bey, has given orders to ſeven Boſhaws of Aſia, viz. of Tripoli, of Seid, of Damas, of Aleppo, of Urfa, of Diarbekir, and of Kelis, to march immediately with their troops into Syria, to oppoſe him. Ali Bey having been informed of this, has ordered a reinforcement of 30,000 men, under the command of Mahomet Bey Abudat, his ſon-in-law; and to defray the expence of this expedition, has demanded of the Chriſtians in Egypt a contribution of 300,000 tallars.

PETERSBURGH, July 5. The Court has this day received the important news, that Prince Dolgorucki arrived the 23d of laſt month before Precop, at the head of the Second Imperial army, and that on the 25th of the ſame month, at ſix o'clock in the morning, he had happily ſucceeded in forcing the lines at the firſt attack, notwithſtanding they were defended by the fortreſs of that name, and guarded by an army compoſed, according to the report of the priſoners, of 50,000 Tartars, and 7000 Turks, which the Khan Selim Girry commanded in perſon. The attack began at two in the morning. Major-General Count de Muſſid-Puſchkin, who commanded the right wing of our army, marched in four columns on the ſide of the Black Sea, and Major-General Proſorowſki, who commanded the left wing, on the ſide of Siwaſch; Brigadier Prince de Gallitzin was with the former, and Major-Generals Princes Peter and Alexis de Gallitzin, were with the latter. As ſoon as the ſignal was given for the attack, our troops began it with an aſtoniſhing ardour and impetuoſity. The Khan at firſt oppoſed the efforts of our left wing in perſon, but not being able to withſtand the bravery of our troops, he turned off towards our right wing, in hopes by his preſence, to encourage his troops, which he found ranged in order of battle, to do their duty; but all this was to no purpoſe; he was obliged to give way to the courage of our troops, and ſeek his ſafety with his men by a ſhameful flight. The counterſcarp of the ditch which our troops climed over with an amaſing intrepidity, in preſence of an army of 60,000 men, was ſix fathom and a half high; the ſcarp was thirteen, and the ditch eight fathom in breadth. We had not one officer killed, and only four wounded; the number of Subaltern officers and ſoldiers killed or wounded amounts only to 100, which is a very inconſiderable loſs, conſidering the importance of the advantage gained on that glorious day. Our trophies conſiſt in 40 pieces of cannon taken from the enemy, and a great quantity of powder and ball. Prince Dolgorucki adds, at the end of his relation, that the fortreſs of Precop had already ſent him deputies to capitulate.

WARSAW, July 13. Letters from the army of Field Marſhal Romanzow adviſe, that General Weiſſmann having paſſed the Danube for the third time, had attacked the 19th of laſt month, under Tulcza, a body of 8000 Turks, drove them from their entrenchments, cut to pieces near 1000 of them, took 106 priſoners, and 24 pieces of cannon, with ſeveral ſtandards. The enemy, with the help of a reinforcement, returned three different times to the charge, but were ſtill repulſed with conſiderable loſs. The Ruſſians, on their return to Iſmail, burnt ſeveral of the enemy's boats, and carried off the reſt without any obſtacle.

FRONTIERS OF POLAND, July 16. The Confederates are actually in the Palatinate of Cracow, with very conſiderable forces. They have formed a project to take the town of that name, and there proceed to the election of a new King. According to advices from Czenſtochau, they are already maſters of that place, and are battering the fortreſs, in which there is a Ruſſian garriſon. Col. During is on his march with a numerous body to throw ſuccours into it, but it is thought he will arrive too late, as the Confederates have attacked the fortreſs on both ſides, and are ſtill more numerous.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 17. The 3d of this month a fire broke out in the Jew's quarter, named Pera; the conflagration was dreadful, and lasted nine hours before it could be got under: The number of houses destroyed is said to be about two thousand.

COPENHAGEN, July 23. Last night the ceremony of the christening of the young Princess was performed at Hirschholm. Her Royal Highness was named Louisa Augusta, after her Majesty the Queen of Denmark, and her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales. The sponsors present were his Majesty the King of Denmark, with his brother Prince Frederick, and the Dowager Queen Julia Maria.

HAMBURGH, July 19. This city is at present exposed to a melancholy scene of distress. All the beautiful and rich vale from hence to Lunenburgh is overflowed by an inundation of the Elbe. The water already comes into one of the gates of the city; and the inhabitants are alarmed lest it should break the dam, which has been strengthened by several thousand sacks of sand that separate it from Alster; were it to overflow, the greatest part of the city would be under water, and the damage to the houses and ware-houses would be very great. The waters have risen from the 17th to yesterday morning fifteen inches.---The senate held an extraordinary assembly, which lasted till four o'clock in the afternoon, to consider of the means of preventing this mischief; and came to the resolution of making three slopes in the great dyke of the Elbe, that the waters might empty themselves into that river. The suburbs, which extend themselves two English miles on that side, with fine country-houses and gardens, are all under water, which is of such a height, that nothing is to be seen but the tops of the trees, and the great road which leads to Berlin is impassable. We are by this deprived of all the fruits and vegetables, as well as forage for the horses and cattle, with which this city used to be supplied from thence: And the loss of the rich crops of corn, by which the people expected to be relieved from the dearness of it, is a melancholy event, of which bad consequences cannot but be apprehended. The damage the city has already sustained, is computed at two hundred thousand pounds sterling. The price of all kinds of provisions is daily increasing; and a thousand pounds weight of hay, which used to be sold from fourteen shillings to sixteen shillings, is not to be had at present for less than three pounds sterling. A public fast is ordered on Sunday the 28th instant, on account of this calamity.

July 26. Notwithstanding the waters are fallen in the Vier-Landen, by the cut made in the Elbe-Dyke, yet it is thought it will be some weeks before the land is entirely free from the inundation: The inhabitants sail over their gardens to their houses, and people come across the country in the same manner.

PETERSBURGH, July 9. This being the anniversary of her Majesty's accession to the throne of all the Russias, her Majesty repaired to Peterhoff to celebrate the day. The public joy was greatly encreased by the arrival of Grouschewski in the evening, with an express from General Prince Dolgorucki, who had the honour to present her Imperial Highness with the keys of the fortress of Orcopi, lately taken.

VIENNA, July 20. We are assured that the Court of Petersburgh has sent its Ultimatum regarding a peace to the Porte, by the way of our Court and that of Berlin, and wait only for an answer, to appoint the place where the congress is to be held, which, it is said, will be either at Semlin or Hermanstadt.

We hear, that the conditions on which the Russians agree to conclude a peace, are, that Walachia, Moldavia, and Crimea, become independent of the Porte, and governed by their own hospodars or governors.

The plague having ceased in Poland, and the danger being not so great now of its reaching the Austrian estates, his Imperial Majesty has broke up the line of troops, and pulled down the houses of health in Silesia and on the frontiers of Poland, except the Palatinate of Maramaros, which confines Moldavia, where they continue to use the same precautions against the contagion.

SUPPLEMENT to the SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE, & COUNTRY JOURNAL.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1771. No. 306. [Printed by Charles Crouch, in Elliott-street.]

This Day are published,

PROPOSALS for printing by SUBSCRIPTION,

By WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, Esq. Vinerian Professor of Laws, and Solicitor-General to her MAJESTY.

In FOUR VOLUMES.

CONDITIONS.

I. BLACKSTONE's Commentaries on the Laws of England, is to be Re-printed in four Volumes, Royal Octavo, Page for Page, with the last Edition of the London Copy.

II. The Work is to be printed on American Paper, and great Attention will be given to the Correctness of the Matter, and Beauty of the Letter-Press.

III. The Price of the four Volumes to Subscribers, will be only Eight Dollars, although the English Edition is sold at Twenty-Six Dollars.

IV. No Money expected but upon the periodical Delivery of each Volume in neat Calf Law Binding, Two Dollars.

V. This expensive Work, which will cost above Fifteen Hundred Pounds, can only be carried into Execution under the Patronage of the Gentlemen of the Law in America, and their extensive Connections in the Country, as well as the capital Cities and Towns on the Continent.

VI. The Names of the Subscribers will be printed in the fourth Volume.

VII. The first Volume is in the Press, and will be delivered to Subscribers.

Proposals, with Specimens of the Paper and Letter, are delivered out, and Subscriptions received, by all the Printers and Booksellers in America.

TO THE AMERICAN WORLD. "THE Inhabitants of this Continent have now an easy and advantageous Opportunity of effectually encouraging literary Manufactures in the British Colonies, at reasonable Prices, calculated for this Meridian, the Establishment of which will absolutely and eventually produce mental Improvement, and commercial Expansion, with the additional Recommendation of positively saving Thousands of Pounds to and among the Inhabitants of the British Empire in America. Thus, the Importation of One Thousand Sets of Blackstone's Commentaries, manufactured in Europe, at Ten Pounds per Set, is sending very near Ten Thousand Pounds across the great Atlantic Ocean. Whereas, One Thousand Sets, manufactured in America, and sold at the small Price of Three Pounds per Set, is an actual saving of Seven Thousand Pounds to the Purchasers, and the identical Three Thousand Pounds which is laid out for our own Manufactures, is still retained in the Country, being distributed among Manufacturers and Traders, whose Residence upon the Continent, of Course causeth the Money to circulate from Neighbour to Neighbour; and by this Circulation in America, there is a great Probability of its revolving to the very Hands from which it originally migrated.

American Gentlemen or Ladies who, at this Juncture, retain any Regard of that ancient and noble, but now almost extinguished Affection, denominated Patriotism, and are now pleased to exemplify it by smiling with Celerity and Alacrity their auspicious Patronage through the cheap Mode of subposing their Names and Residences (no Money expected until the Delivery of an Equivalent) with any Printer or Bookseller on the Continent, as intentional Purchasers of any of the literary Works now in Contemplation to be Re-printed by Subscription in America, will render an essential Service to the Community, by encouraging native Manufactures, and therefore deserves to be had in grateful Remembrance by their Country, by Posterity, and by their much obliged humble Servant, the Publisher."

ROBERT BELL.
